ASKS MRS. JACKSON'S ARREST

RELATIVE OF THE MURDERED MAN WANTS HIS WIDOW HELD.

Prosecuting Attorney Lowe Has Taken the Matter Under Advisement and Says He Will Decide To-day.

A relative of Fred J. Jackson, who was shot and killed by Dr. J. D. Goddard at the Woodland hotel several months ago, held a conference with the presecuting attorney yesterday and urged him to file information against Mrs. Jackson, the widow of the murdered man, and whose relations with Goddard are supposed to have caused trouble between the two men. Mr. Lowe has taken the matter under advisement and will reach some conclusion to-day.

"I have half a mind to order Mrs. Jackson's arreat," said Mr. Lowe yesterday. "It is a delicate matter, however, and I am not decided just yet as to what I shall do. Mrs. Jackson is putting forth a great deal of energy in Goddard's behalf, and is interesting herself greatly in the trial. I shall determine to-morrow whether I shall file information charging her with complicity in the murder of her husband. The theory of the state in the case will probably be that Jackson had possession of certain vidence showing that Mrs. Jackson of certain vidence showing that Mrs. Jackson had advanced large sums of money to Goddard, and that Jackson was about to file suit to have his own property, which had been conveyed to his wife, redeeded to him. This is regarded as a stronger motive than the mere quarrel over Goddard's attentions to Mrs. Jackson.

The state will to a certain extent be compelled to show its case in the criminal court this morning, when the hearing of the application of Goddard for admission to ball comes up. Goddard has subpoenaed every witness for the state and a great many others, about twenty in all, and their evidence may come pretty near making out the whole case. Judge Wofford will then be able to determine whether the crime was of such a character as to warrant Goddard in being admitted to ball.

The state, however, does not believe that the defense expects to have its petition for bail granted. The prosecuting attorney looks upon the whole proceeding as a clever scheme to get possession of the principal evidence of the state.

WORKED THE OTHER WAY. with Goddard are supposed to have caused trouble between the two men. Mr. Lowe

WORKED THE OTHER WAY. Traveling Salesman Wanted Damages for His Discharge, but in Debt

to the Company. J. T. Caples recently sued the Enterprise Stove Company for breach of contract in discharging him from his position of trav-eling salesman when he had a written contract for a year. The controversy was referred by Judge Henry to I. P. Ryland.

ferred by Judge Henry to I. P. Ryland, who submitted his report to the court yesterday. Mr. Ryland found that the company did right in discharging Caples, and that so far from the company owing him anything, he was indebted to the company in the sum of $1.80.

The referes found that Caples devised a scheme to make stoves sell more readily. He was to get $800 a year on orders amounting to $12.000 in the aggregate. His orders were in triplicate. The order he sent to the house was a straight sale, while the order he left with the purchaser gave him permission to return the stove if he did not like it. The result was that orders came pretty fast, for the stoves were merely consigned and not sold outright. Caples was warned not to make any changes in the orders, but he did not heed the warning, and as a result was discharged and will have to pay the freight and drayage on stoves that were returned by purchasers to the company.

THEY MAY FIGHT IT OUT. Courts Do Not Decide Just Now Who

Are the Legal Von Daun Heirs.

Judge Guinotte of the probate court yes terday settled the wrangles between the heirs of the late Captain W. S. Theodore Van Daun, the wealthy Dane who died in Van Daun, the wealthy Dane who died in the city some years ago. He left his estate to his daughter, and at her death to a large number of heirs, chiefly his sisters and their children. Among the heirs was countess Ahlefeldt Von Lauvrig. The heirs wanted George Gaston, the executor, to make a final settlement and distribution of the estate, as the daughter had died. Colonel Gaston was perfectly willing to do so, but he did not know who the heirs were, and he asked Judge Henry to find out for him.

Judge Henry turned the whole matter

Judge Gulnotte. The latter cut the over to Judge Guinotte. The latter cut the Gordion knot by ordering Colonel Gaston to deed the real estate in his possession to the heirs of Captain Von Daun, not naming them all by name, but making a general designation. This will relieve Colonel Gaston of all responsibility, and will leave the heirs free to fight it out among themselves. Colonel Gaston is directed to make final settlement at the August term of court.

PRINCES IN TROUBLE AGAIN. They Manage to Keep Up a Pretty Steady Row and Make Business

Charles E. Prince, the divorced husband of Mrs. Betty Prince, who runs a grocery at Fifth and Gillis streets, lost a suit for $300 against Mrs. Prince in Justice Walls' court yesterday morning. The domestic court yesterday morning. The domestic troubles of the Prince family have been aired in the courts almost monthly for years. After securing a divorce, Mrs. Prince employed her husband as clerk in her store, A few months ago he got drunk, locked her out and held possession for two days. Finally he was arrested and she charged him with embezzling 300 from her. His case came up before a justice of the peace in Independence, but was dismissed upon his turning over his bank account for $300. He then entered suit to recover $300, which he claimed she owes him for wages. A jury in Justice Walls court found for Mrs. Prince. This enraged Prince and he followed his divorced wife from the court room to her store, and threatened to kill her. Prince was arrested and will have his trial July 1. He was committed to jail in default of bond.

The parents of Willie Kale, aged 12 years, will go before Judge Wofford to-day and ack that he be sent to the reform farm. At least they so informed Justice Spitz yesterday, when he bound the boy over to the grand jury on two charges of burglary. The boy admitted that, with several other boys, he had broken into F. C. Merrill's lumber office several nights ago. They knecked off the knob of the safe in an effect to open it. He is also charged with breaking into Albert Jacobson's store at 40 East Eighteenth sireet. He has been arrested several times before and released on the plea of his parents to try and referm him, but their efforts have been in vain. Mount Johnson, a colored boy, was also held to the grand jury on the same charges.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Federal Officials Busy Closing Up the Business of the Quarter and of the Fiscal Year.

The close of the fiscal year on the 30th makes the work of the various government officials heavy and imperative just now, and they are kept on the jump compiling their ennual reports and getting in shape for closing the business of the year. In nearly all of the departments there is a rush of regular work also, so that everybody is busy.

In Marshal Crenshaw's office and in the office of the cierks, Miss Utter and Colonel Nuckols, the force is busy getting the fee bills and transcripts and accounts made out for the inspection of the court next Thursday. With the opening of a new year accounts will be paid now, as there are funds for the purpose. The funds for the purpose. The funds for the payment of accounts for the last quarter of this year will have to be provided for by a deficiency appropriation before they can all be paid, and, of course, every one is anxious to get in the first account.
